Monday, September 21. 1702.

From the Hague Gazette, Dated Sept. 16.

Rome, Aug. 15.

THE first Advice of the Battel of Luzara between the Imperialists and the French, was brought to the Pope on Sunday last by a Courier from the Legate of Bologna: His Holyness sent the Letter immediately to Cardinal Fourbin, who return'd Answer that he believ'd what was written to the Advantage of the Germans was fictitious. The same Evening the Chevalier Crispoldi arriv'd Express from Prince Eugene to the Imperial Ambassador with an Account of the Victory gain'd over the French. The Ambassador instantly communicated the News to Cardinal Grimani, who without delay order'd several Copies of the Letter to be taken and distributed about the City. On Monday morning His Eminence Notified this Advice to all the Cardinals Princes and Lords that are in the Interest of the House of Austria, and went to the German Church accompanied by Count Lamberg and a great number of Noblemen, to give thanks for the Victory. On Tuesday early in the Morning the Spanish Ambassador received an Express from Milan with a quite contrary Account of the Success of that Battel: which he communicated to the Pope but not to the Cardinals. And the same day at Night a Courier from the Duke de Vendome brought Advice to Cardinal Janfon that the French had taken the Town of Luzara on the 18th. This has put the City of Rome almost into an uproar, every Man attributing the Victory to the Party he is inclin'd to. The publick places of Conversation ring of nothing but Disputes concerning the different Advices of this Matter; Insomuch that the Pope has commanded the Cardinals not to suffer any Discourses on this Subject, in their Palaces; and the Spanish Agent having demanded an Audience on Sunday last, his Holyness gave him to understand that if he had any Business he should be admitted, but if he came with News only he was not at leisure to hear it. The Apostolical Commissary Falconieri has already caus'd 20 of the Banditi of Naples to be Hang'd, who made incursions into the Ecclesiastical Territorys, and has sent out 500 Men to clear the Country of the rest. The King of Spain has yielded at length, least the Vacant Bishopricks in the Kingdom of Naples should want Pastors, that the Pope should authorize Bishops to act there in Virtue of Breviates, in which no mention is made of his Majesty's Title to that Kingdom. Father Aquaviva a Monk, of one of the most considerable Families in Naples, who is disaffected to the present Government of that Kingdom, has been commanded by his Holyness through the Instigation of Cardinal Janfon to depart out of the Ecclesiastical State within 3 days. They write from Naples that the greatest part of the Domesticks of the Envoy of Malta were siez'd, and that it was talk'd that he himself would be secur'd, as being greatly suspected of having had a hand in the last Conspiracy: That the Governor of Brindisi had sent Advice by an Express that the Count de Tholouse was entred into the Gulph of Venice, with design to bombard some Sea-port Towns belonging to the Emperor; but that there are above 3000 of the Militia in Arms to oppose his landing on those Coasts. The Town of Benevento is utterly ruin'd by an Earthquake.

From the Leiden Gazette, Dated Sept. 21.

They write from Rome on the 2d instant, that the filling up of the Breviates for the new Bishops of the Kingdom of Naples, was delayed, because there are still some Difficulties about that Subject which cannot yet be remov'd; but Signior Zandedari the Pope's Nuncio to the King of Spain continues to solicit his Catholick Majesty upon that Affair. That the Pope after having held several Congregations on the present juncture of Affairs in Poland, has dispatch'd Letters to the Cardinal Primate and to the Principal Noblemen of that Country, exhorting them earnestly to maintain the Cause of the Catholick Religion and of their King against the Sweeds. That the Queen Dowager of Poland, in a long Audience which she had of the Pope on the 1st Instant, had desir'd him to employ his good Offices to procure the Crown of Poland for one of the Princes her Sons, in case the present King should happen to be depos'd. That Cardinal Grimani, in a visit to'ther day to Cardinal Pauluci first Minister and Secretary of State, remonstrated that the Pope had shewn new marks of his Affection to the Kings of France and Spain, in suffering the Forces of those Crowns to the number of 10000, to post themselves in the Dutchy of Parma, (which is a fief of the Church,) but was answer'd, That there was no just Grounds for such a Complaint, and that his Holyness carry'd himself, as much as was possible, as a Common Father: and that afterwards the Pope, having receiv'd further Intelligence that it was the Imperialists who had the Victory at Luzara, Luzara, sent orders to the Duke of Parma to keep an exact Neutrality, and acquainted Cardinal Grimani that he would give no occasion for the like Complaints for the Future. That Cardinal Fourbin having complain'd on his side that some Germans had flung Dirt upon the King of France's Arms which are over the Gate of Count Varani's Palace at Feirara, the Pope reply'd, he would not concern himself in favour of either Party. That there were Quarrels in Rome every Day, between the Partisans of France, and those of the House of Austria which were the more numerous, notwithstanding some Persons of each Party had been imprison'd for having offended against the Pope's Order forbidding all Controversies about the War in Italy on the penalty of Whipping and of a Fine of 25 Ducats. That the Imperial Ambassador had caus'd his Domesticks to wear black and green Ribbons; and the Ministers of France and Spain had made theirs wear white and red; and that the like was done by the Partisans on each side, and that these Ministers entertain'd a great number of armed Men in their Palaces: From all which the Pope apprehending some disorders, had called home his Troops that in Viterbo and Veletri, and had order'd Corps de Garde to be placed in all the publick places of Rome.
